INCREASED REFERRALS? YES! THROUGH OUR NEW CLINICIAN OUTREACH NEWSLETTER

Home health care agency professionals across the U.S. now rely upon Quality of Life Matters® in Home Care to educate physicians, strengthen clinician relationships, and encourage earlier referrals. The four-page quarterly newsletter was launched in response to market demand. Agency managers familiar with our highly-acclaimed hospice newsletter, which is now in its eleventh year, urged us to provide a similar educational tool for home care. Consider:

- ✓ Consistent top-notch clinical content.
- ✓ Customized front and back so the publication arrives in clinicians' hands as an educational service provided by your home health care organization.
- ✓ Branding in full color available for front-page masthead at no extra charge (provide your own text and design for masthead in digital format).

VALUE-ADDED BENEFITS

- ✓ Convenient hassle-free service means we recognize that your time is too valuable to be spent coordinating typesetting, printing, and bindery. Quality of Life Matters in Home Care arrives at your desk ready to distribute.
- ✓ Unlimited permission to reprint articles from our archived clinical and news articles gives you access to hard-hitting editorial content to use in handouts at educational events for staff members, volunteers, and referral sources or as informative features in community newsletters.
